Joseph Bak, Donald J. Newman, The Solution of the Cubic Equation and Newton's Method for Approximating the Zeros of Any Polynomial, expanded treatments of the Schwarz reflection principle and of the mapping properties of analytic functions on closed domains. 2010 Topics in Mathematics: Global Analysis. Mathematics Functions of Complex Variables. Analytic Functions. Analysis. Publisher: New York: Springer Collection. Internet Archive Books. In Library. Print Disabled. Contributor: Internet Archive. Language: English. Xii, 328 p. 24 cm. Prev. ed. 1997. This unusual and lively textbook offers a clear and intuitive approach to the classical and beautiful theory of complex variables with very little dependence on advanced concepts from several variable calculus and topology. The text focuses on the authentic complex variable ideas and techniques. Joseph Bak's primary area of research is approximation theory. Dr. Donald J. Newman (July 27, 1930 - March 28, 2007) was a champion problem solver. His mathematical specialties included complex analysis. 3rd edition, hardcover, January 1, 2015. Presents the solution of the cubic equation and Newton's method for approximating the zeros of any polynomial. New edition features expanded treatments of the Schwarz reflection principle and of the mapping properties of analytic functions on closed domains. Includes an introduction. Joseph Bak, Donald J. Newman. Springer Science Business Media. Jun 25, 1999. Mathematics. 296 pages. This unusually lively textbook on complex variables introduces the theory of analytic complex analysis.
