this edition includes the letters exchanged between charles s peirce and the open court publishing company between 1890 and 1913 open court published more of peirce s philosophical writings than any other publisher during his lifetime and played a critical role in what little recognition and financial income he received during these difficult yet philosophically rich years this correspondence is the basis for much of what is known surrounding peirce s publications in the monist and the open court two of the publisher s most popular forums for philosophical scientific and religious thought and is therefore referenced heavily in peirce editions dealing partly or wholly with his later work including the essential peirce series and writings of charles s peirce the edition provides for the first time a complete text of this oft cited correspondence with textual apparatus contextual annotation and careful replications of existential graphs and other complex illustrations by so doing this edition sheds critical light not only on peirce and open court but also on the context relationships and concepts that influenced the development of progressive era intellectual history and philosophy christine m korsgaard presents a compelling new view of humans moral relationships to the other animals she defends the claim that we are obligated to treat all sentient beings as what kant called ends in themselves drawing on a theory of the good derived from aristotle she offers an explanation of why animals are the sorts of beings for whom things can be good or bad she then turns to kant s argument for the value of humanity to show that rationality commits us to claiming the standing of ends in ourselves in two senses kant argued that as autonomous beings we claim to be ends in ourselves when we claim the standing to make laws for ourselves and each other korsgaard argues that as beings who have a good we also claim to be ends in ourselves when we take the things that are good for us to be good absolutely and so worthy of pursuit the first claim commits us to joining with other autonomous beings in relations of moral reciprocity the second claim commits us to treating the good of every sentient creature as something of absolute importance korsgaard argues that human beings are not more important than the other animals that our moral nature does not make us superior to the other animals and that our unique capacities do not make us better off than the other animals she criticizes the marginal cases argument and advances a new view of moral standing as attaching to the atemporal subjects of lives she criticizes kant s own view that our duties to animals are indirect and offers a non utilitarian account of the relation between pleasure and the good she also addresses a number of directly practical questions whether we have the right to eat animals experiment on them make them work for us and fight in our wars and keep them as pets and how to understand the wrong that we do when we cause a species to go extinct
